

DSV Road Direct Transport Products and Additional Services

Model example of transport from Prague to Dresden

DSV FTL

Transport of a shipment that usually occupies the entire vehicle. This is the fastest, but also the most expensive type of transport. Shipments typically transported in this way are:

- from and including 13.1 ldm
- from and including 66 cbm
- from and including 22,500 kg gross shipment weight

At the customer's request, smaller shipments can also be transported in this way. Various vehicle types are available.

DSV LTL

Transport of a shipment that occupies only part of the vehicle. Compared to FTL transport, it is cheaper, but the transit time is usually longer. Shipments typically transported in this way are:

- occupying a loading space from 2.5 to less than 13.1 ldm
- with a volume from 10 cbm to less than 66 cbm
- over 2,500 kg
